English Department is headed by Professor Dr. Nurul Islam who taught English at King Saud University for a decade, and as such has a first-hand knowledge of the requirements of the universities in Saudi Arabia and other middle east countries. He has also taught at Michigan State University as a Fulbright Scholar. With him there are 20 highly qualified and highly motivated full-time teachers some of whom with degrees and training from abroad. Besides, some very senior and nationally renowned academics from Dhaka University and Jahangirnagar University teach at Eastern as part-time faculties.

ARE YOU AWARE

A good degree in English can open a window of job opportunities for you at home and abroad. Graduates in English are preferred for jobs ranging from Teaching to Media, Banks, Multinational Companies. A few years ago a Recruitment Team from Saudi Arabia came to Bangladesh to recruit as many as 600 teachers for their universities, colleges and schools. They could not recruit even 20 teachers because of the dearth of qualified candidates. English graduates are likely to do best at BCS Exams. English graduates find it easy to pursue MBA; the combination is best for top corporate jobs. Some of the top executives in the country have English education background. There are 54 Private Universities and the number is increasing. They all have English courses and need a huge number of English teachers. English Medium Schools are growing fast; soon most schools and colleges are likely to open English Medium sections. They need a good number of teachers and they pay well.

The English Program at Eastern follows needs-based multi syllabus approach combining well-balanced language and literature courses in order to cater to above job needs.

Special features of the English program at Eastern University at the undergraduate level are:

- ☐ Module based language course for intensive teaching; each module comprising a 2-credit course is taught 3 times a week.
- ☐ Compulsory tutorial classes for the students.
- ☐ Need-based multi-syllabus approach combining well-balanced language and literature courses.
- ☐ Easily accessible student counseling.
- ☐ English language club facilities; poetry recitation, debate, drama – such extra-class room activities are regularly held.

Eastern University was established in 2003 under the Private University Act 1992, as amended in 1998. Till now the University has four campuses in Dhanmondi. All the campuses are in convenient locations, attractive and easily accessible from different areas of Dhaka city. The Department of English is on campus 4 at House 31/A, Road 8, Dhanmondi R/A, Dhaka-1205.

B.A. (Hons.) in English is a four-year program spread over 12 semesters. The curriculum is made of 40 proportionately balanced literature, language and general education courses carrying 121 credit hours. The courses vary from 2 to 4 credit hours. Students must complete the courses according to the University academic schedule by earning a CGPA of at least 2.50 to get the degree. There will be viva voce exam at the end of each year and each exam, with an individual code number, will be weighted 0.50 credit hour.
